

COTSWORKS' Statement Regarding California Proposition 65

Proposition 65, officially known as the California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986, aims to protect California citizens from significant exposure to chemicals known by the State to cause cancer, birth defects, or reproductive harm. California Proposition 65 obligates businesses operating in California to provide clear and reasonable warnings before knowingly and intentionally exposing Californians to chemicals that are listed in the Proposition 65 List.

To the best of our knowledge, and based upon the information available to us, our products do not require a warning label under Proposition 65 because they do not pose a significant risk of exposure through normal or foreseeable use. Specifically:

- Some of our products may contain Proposition 65 listed substances; however, there is no exposure route such as skin contact, ingestion with food or drink, or inhalation during normal or foreseeable use.
- Therefore, for our products, a warning label indicating that they contain chemicals that may cause cancer, birth defects, or reproductive harm is not required.

People or companies operating in California intending to use our products for other than normal suggested product usage, may cause exposure risk to Proposition 65 chemicals if present. To mitigate and reduce the risk of exposure, COTSWORKS recommends use of approved safety equipment; including use of dust masks, protective gloves, and further recommends work of this nature be performed by personnel qualified to install our parts correctly.
